PILGRIM 1: Eruch is there any story of Baba meeting Einstein or something like that?

ERUCH: Well I was not there at that time in person but what had happened is that what I have heard from the ones who were there at that time. I forget now whether it was Norina there or somebody else there [crosstalk].

PILGRIM 2: That's right. I remember hearing that Norina, Norina, ERUCH: Norina was there yeah. So what had happened is this. That there was an open house you may call it. What you'll call it open house? People can come and see a person or some meet one another. So that's how it was. So that day was fixed. People had come. Brought their acquaintances, families and this and this is my this and this is that. And say, "How do you do Mr. Meher Baba?" And all that. Mr. Meher Baba it was there at the time.

So then what happened is now everybody has had their time and finished. Everything over. So Baba tells those who were supposed to be in charge of the arrangement. Says, "Now I'll be leaving. See whether is there anybody standing. Is there anybody left out? Don't call me afterwards. Today is the day for it." So of course they go out [inaudible]. Go out here there. Nobody was in the hall there anywhere nearby no. So they come and report. Baba again says, "Have you seen properly? Have you properly made an enquiry? See whether there is anybody."

So again the person goes out. I think it was Norina or somebody. Goes there. Nobody is there [bell rings]. Baba says, "Go and see properly. See it properly." So naturally she goes and ventures out there. Means outside. At the entrance. And sure enough there is a woman standing there looking here and there. So she's prompted to enquire, "Do you wish to come inside? Do you want somebody?" Says, "Yes." "So come inside." So that's how she was brought inside. And she turned out to be Einstein's daughter or somebody.

PILGRIM 3: Step-daughter.

ERUCH: Step-daughter yeah. That's what I had heard. And then was given Baba's literature and all that so naturally she must have told Einstein or something. I don't know. This much I have heard. She was in presence of Baba. Baba enquired about her and all that [crosstalk]. Haan?

PILGRIM 4: Baba has met Einstein once.

PILGRIM 2: Yeah I read that.

PILGRIM 4: In a hotel or somewhere.

ERUCH: I don't know.

PILGRIM 4: I read somewhere.

PILGRIM 2: Yeah I read that.

ERUCH: This I heard from horse's mouth.
